ROOSEVELT IS GIVEN DEGREE AT PHILADELPHIA

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 22.—That hair shirt which Mr. Hoover has discarded has been picked up by the president. In his letter to Mr. Louis Stancourt, of Roosevelt,

Long Island, he indulges in an outburst of self pity.

He writes of his "hurt when people who do not know hold up to ridicule our efforts to do useful things with the public monies".

This is obviously an indirect allusion to boondoggling, and shows a sensitiveness to the widespread criticism of that New Deal practice that is most revealing.

The fact that after three years of promises, assurances and incalculable expenditure of "The Public Monies" (the taxpayers monies) there are ten or eleven million people out of work, is going to be difficult to sob off.

The administration can't lay its failure to succeed on the invalidation of N. R. A. That contraption was on the ropes long before the supreme court gave it the count. The decision against A. A. A. has not stopped the "gentle rain of checks" to the farmers. W. P. A. and the scores of other federal agencies proceed uninterrupted.

And the average worker is still bogged down for lack of a job. No wonder the president is sorry for himself!

PA NEW OBSERVES

South Side streets were crowded Friday with a corps of men who were busily engaged in removing the huge piles of snow stored along curbs.

That the spring season is just around the corner, only 28 more days to be exact, can be noticed by the days which are getting longer and longer.

From the appearance of a number of cars which have been seen with only one headlight and many minus tail lights, garage men throughout the county are going to have a busy season when the next inspection date arrives. March 1 marks the start of the next inspection period.

It is not an uncommon sight to see a wrecker towing a disabled machine about the streets, but Pa New was informed that another car was towing a wrecker down Highland avenue this morning.

Skaters are having their innings again since the weather has warmed up a bit, and for the last two evenings, devotees of this sport have been out in great numbers.

A year ago today, New Castle folks dug their way out of the heaviest snowfall of the winter, when almost six inches of the beautiful, followed by a six inch fall the next day, was recorded. A lot of this melted, however, which prevented a more serious condition.

Capt. E. J. Henry, new acting head of the State Highway patrol, is well known here, having attended

Temple Confers Honorary Degree Upon President

Special Ceremony Takes Place At Philadelphia During Morning

PRESIDENT MAKES BRIEF ADDRESS

Refrains From Usual Use Of Quotations From Washington's Sayings

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22.—Jabbing ironically at his political critics, President Roosevelt received the honorary degree of doctor of jurisprudence from Temple University here today by promising that, even though he rudely upset all traditions of George Washington's birth orators, his acceptance speech would be barren of quotations from the father of our country.

"More than this, and breaking precedent once more," asserted the president, "I do not intend to commence my sentence with these words—'If George Washington had been alive today' or 'If Thomas Jefferson had been alive today' or 'If Alexander Hamilton had been alive today' or 'If Abraham Lincoln had been alive today'—beyond peradventure of a doubt he would have opposed—or, perhaps, favored—etc., etc., etc."

Cognizant Of Criticism
The president obviously was taking good-natured cognizance of partisan criticism directed at speeches he delivered recently to the now famous $50-a-plate Jackson Day dinner in Washington and the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial exercises in New York, although primarily he was kidding the increasing trend among campaign orators to prove their points by quoting the founding fathers. Quotations the president used in those two speeches which tended to substantiate administration policies later were attacked by opponents.

Today, standing in cap and gown before Temple's mid-year commencement assemblage, Mr. Roosevelt declared:

"It is a happy coincidence that we should meet together to pay our respects to the cause of education on the birthday of the father of this nation. In his wise and kindly way George Washington deeply appreciated the importance of education in a republic and the responsibility of the government to promote it."

"Let this simple statement stand by itself without proof of quotation. I say this lest, if I quoted excerpts from somewhat voluminous writings and messages of the first president of the United States, some captious critic might search the Library of Congress for them."

Two Students At Pitt Killed

Five Others Injured In Auto Skidding Crash At Wilkinsburg

HAD BEEN GUESTS AT DANCE EVENT

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21.—Two University of Pittsburgh students were killed and five others were hurt, one seriously, in an automobile crash early today that climaxed a happy evening spent at a high school alumni dance and later at a roadhouse.

The dead were Doris Vogan, 18, and William McLaughlin, 17. The injured were Edwin F. Ellis, 17, Condition serious; Irene Maroney, 19; Mary McClain, 17; Frank Sweet, Jr., 16, and Donald Crane, 18, all University of Pittsburgh students.

Witnesses said the automobile skidded on the icy highway, spun around and crashed into a freight car at an intersection in Wilkinsburg.

Both Miss Vogan and McLaughlin were dead upon arrival at Columbia Hospital. The students had attended an alumni dance of Central Catholic high school.

It was McLaughlin's first "date" with Miss Vogan. The girl was a high honor student and had won a scholarship to the University at high school. Miss Vogan was born in Columbia hospital and it was there she was pronounced dead.

With administration leaders moving for speedy agreement on differences between senate and house—declared to be minor—Mr. Roosevelt may sign it on his return from Hyde Park next week.

The next congressional action was slated to be passage of a tax bill to finance the program.

President Roosevelt, leaders said, will lay before congress a tax plan the end of next week or the first of the following week.

A white house conference with congressional leaders on taxes is slated upon Mr. Roosevelt's return. The new tax program is expected to call for a revised system of processing taxes together with efforts to draw into the treasury $300,000,000 in AAA processing taxes ordered returned by the courts or unpaid.

HAMLIN, W. Va., Feb. 22.—Fourteen-year-old Gladys Dillon was being held in jail here today following her confession to Lincoln county Prosecutor W. F. Damron that she placed poison in a sack of flour at her parents' home at Hubball which resulted in the poisoning of her mother and father and six brothers and sisters.

The girl declared that she had intended to poison only her mother but that the other victims became ill from eating biscuits made with the poisoned flour, Damron said.

Prosecutor Damron declared today that three of the children have been conceded only a slight chance of recovering by physicians attending the entire family at the home of Cleve Chandler in Hubball.

Parents Recovering
The father, Edgar, 40, and his wife, were recovering but were still in the danger zone, physicians said. It was Chandler who first found the eight victims writhing in agony at their impoverished home on the highway 14 miles west of here.

He summoned Damron, police and physicians.

In her cell at the county jail here Gladys appeared little concerned over the condition of her victims, although maintaining that "Mom was the one who ought to have died."

Behind her borgia thrust that threatened for a while the annihilation of her entire family, police pieced a picture of an unhappy domestic life which reached a crisis Wednesday when Gladys eloped with a rustic swain with intentions of getting married in nearby Logan.

League To Ditch Oil Embargo Act

Claim Attitude Of United States Would Prevent Application

(International News Service)
GENEVA, Feb. 22.—The League of Nations today another step forward toward anticipated shelving of the oil embargo issue on grounds of the attitude of the United States would prevent its application.

The League's general staff committee of 18 on sanctions was convened for March 3, at which time foreign minister Pierre Etienne Flandin of France will be present.

Discuss Embargo
The question of an oil embargo against Italy for her Ethiopian campaign will be discussed. The League however, is expected to maneuver into a decision that such an embargo would be premature.

Big Industrial Exposition Will Open Monday

Exhibitors Are Ready To Place Their Displays Tomorrow For Opening Day

THOUSANDS ARE EXPECTED AT SHOW

With everything in readiness, the big Industrial Exposition, planned by the industries of the city, will open under auspicious circumstances here Monday afternoon, Chairman Ralph W. Borsinger announced today.

The display room of the Lawrence Auto Sales Company is being prepared for occupation tomorrow by the exhibitors, who will move their displays, already prepared, into the spaces allotted for them.

Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, Mayor Charles E. McGrath will officially open the exposition, and each afternoon and evening from 2 o'clock on, during the week, visitors are expected to flock to the show, learning what the New Castle industries are producing.

Since the last exhibition of this kind, many new lines of products have been developed for manufacture here, and in addition there are some new industries which have opened here, whose products will be displayed.

There will be plenty of parking space in the vicinity of the show-room, while parking concessions are

Boy Is Killed, Girl Injured In Coasting Crash

(International News Service)
CONNELLVILLE, Pa., Feb. 22.—George Legreco, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Legreco of Dunbar lay dead and Thelma Hughes, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hughes, also of Dunbar, was in a hospital in a serious condition with a fractured skull today as the result of a coasting accident in which their sled side-swiped the rear wheel of a car.

The runner of the sled was sliding along the trolley rail and the boy was unable to turn it out of the path of the automobile, according to police. The driver of the car was Lawrence Jeffries of Pechin, police said.

Peyton was sentenced a month ago to serve one to three years for a beating administered to Leonard C. Calder, a patron at his establishment, in a quarrel over a bill. He was released on bail after serving a few days.

A supersedeas granted to Peyton while he sought a new trial was cancelled and the crooner should have been returned to jail then but county detectives were unable to find him. Peyton has retained counsel for an appeal to the superior court.

To Seek Federal Funds For Armory Construction Here

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 22.—A new National Guard administration building and stables for New Castle are included in an armory building program to which 25 members of the Pennsylvania congressional delegation have pledged their support, and for which Federal funds will be sought.

It was learned here today.

The New Castle administration building and stables, intended to house Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, under command of Captain George F. Mitchell, would cost $65,000. They are part of a $5,000,000 program of armory construction for Pennsylvania.

In turn, the Pennsylvania program is part of a $75,000,000 armory construction program for the United States.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 22.—Where is Eddie Peyton?

County district attorney's aides pondered that question among themselves today as they speculated on the whereabouts of the night club maestro who should be in the county jail serving time on aggravated assault and battery charges on which he was convicted shortly after testifying for the defense of Squire James J. Westwood.

Several futile attempts have been made to locate him in Miami. It was also said he might be in Havana or the Bahamas, while the possibility of extradition proceedings was discussed.

Peyton was sentenced a month ago to serve one to three years for a beating administered to Leonard C. Calder, a patron at his establishment, in a quarrel over a bill. He was released on bail after serving a few days.

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., Feb. 22.—Millard White, picturesque New Jersey mountaineer, today successfully resisted efforts of state authorities to "persuade" him to undergo grilling on his Lindbergh case testimony in which he charged Bruno Richard Hauptmann was near the Lindbergh home on two occasions before baby Lindbergh was kidnapped and murdered.

Constantine William Saunders and Hunter County Detective William Dittinger shortly before noon trailed White and his wife to the Landsville home of his brother-in-law, George Ike, where he had sought sanctuary during the night after eluding a police detail near Lawrenceville.

White flatly refused to leave the Ike homestead in custody of the peace officers and repeated, with salty interjections, his "come and get me" deft which he flung at Gov. Harold G. Hoffman last night.

THRIFT GARDEN FUND SHORT

Projects Will Become Local

No State Funds On Hand To Provide For Activity This Summer

HOPE TO OBTAIN FEDERAL MONEY

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 22.—With no state aid available and almost no possibility of federal financial assistance, the countless "thrifty" gardens that have meant subsistence to families during the depression years today face the prospect of being entirely local projects throughout Pennsylvania.

Pointing out there are no state funds on hand to help with the thrifty garden program this summer, state emergency relief administration officials said that while they had hoped to be able to obtain some federal money "none is in the offing as yet."

No Project. Because of the financial reasons, the S.E.R.A., which formerly sponsored the gardening projects, has determined to take such projects out of their program for the coming summer.

"These gardens, if they are started at all, will have to be taken over by local communities in the state," Donald C. Galehouse, assistant state relief director, told International News Service. "We plan to distribute what was left over from last year's program in the way of seeds and fertilizer, but the amounts on hand are negligible to the actual needs."

Galehouse said a study was being made at the present time to determine how many counties would include "thrifty" garden projects in their relief program. The study is being carried out by means of memoranda and questionnaires sent to the various counties.

A straight forward statement of the TRUTH will protect your family against a most malicious practice!

It has been brought to my attention that there are some unscrupulous individuals who intimate that The Darrell Burke Funeral Home does not provide the highest type funeral merchandise that is available anywhere.

I warn you to guard against this propaganda, not only in my interests, but more particularly in your family's interest. I urge you to be very careful that you are not misled by underhand methods into assuming that I do not provide funerals that are equal or superior to any offered anywhere at much higher prices. Remember Darrell Burke has consistently advertised that his merchandise is purchased from the most reputable manufacturers, as recognized by the profession. I sell Caskets manufactured by Companies such as the National Casket Co., a nationally advertised line of quality merchandise, also the Columbus Coffin Co., builders of fine caskets for over fifty years.

real property, other than property used by the taxpayer as his personal residence. In general, it applies to the taxpayer's capital assets—buildings, machinery, etc.—the cost of which cannot be deducted as a business expense.

A lawyer, doctor, or other professional man may not charge off as a current expense the cost of a library used wholly in his profession, this being a capital expenditure and the library a capital asset, but he may deduct an allowance for depreciation based upon the useful life of the library. If part of a professional man's residence is used by him for office purposes, a proportionate amount of the depreciation sustained may be deducted, based generally on the ratio of the number of rooms used for such purposes to the total number of rooms in the building. The same principle applies if a taxpayer rents to others a portion of his residence. Under such conditions, however, the taxpayer must include in his gross income the rentals received.

by authorities, were overtaken on the road to Logan by her father and a friend, much to the girl's chagrin. Returning to her home, according to Prosecutor Damron, she discovered a container of poison given to her father last spring by a relief agency for use on garden pests.

This she allegedly mixed with a sack of flour which she knew would be used in the making of biscuits for the family's breakfast. While principally concerned with revenging herself upon her mother, whom she blamed for thwarting her marriage plans, Gladys apparently failed to reckon the consequences upon her father and sisters and brothers.

At the breakfast at which the poisoned biscuits were served, she refrained from eating. One of her brothers escaped the fate of the others because he overslept and did not show up for breakfast. Prosecutor Damron declared the girl will be held for action of the next grand jury which meets here March 2.

Addressing 1,400 leaders at the 39th annual dinner of group 8 Pennsylvania Bankers association, Thorpe listed the other four obstructions as: "The hesitations necessary to survey proposed economic experiments; uncertainties attending the administration of regulatory law by bureaus and authorities; instability of the money by which every purchase is measured, and the hidden threat of further governmental competition with private enterprise."

Washington Got College Degree From Harvard For Whipping British

(International News Service) CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 22.—George Washington got his first college degree not for learning but for whipping the British. The degree, that of doctor of laws, was conferred on the father of his country by enthusiastic Harvard University officials for driving the British out of Boston. It was disclosed at Harvard today.

Back in 1776, the Redcoats had a pretty firm grip on the Back Bay region. British troops were quartered in Harvard's hall and the then Harvard College had hid itself to Concord. Then along came Washington and his Colonials and chased the king's men out. Harvard officials were so pleased they held a special meeting and voted Washington the degree, first honorary LL. D. ever awarded a non-graduate by Harvard and made a special trip to Washington's camp at Cambridge to present the honor.

The citation thanked Washington for freeing New England from "the unjust and cruel arms of Britain," and conferred upon him "the highest honor, doctor of laws, the law of nature and nations and the civil law."

First rough draft of the sheepskin now in the Harvard library. The copy presented to Washington is now in the possession of the American Philosophical society at Philadelphia.

The Weather Man seems to be in a rut. Indications yesterday were that the zero record was broken, but again this morning the official report comes through that the mercury dropped below zero again during the night in this city.

Street car traffic this morning, revealed that quite a number of the regular car patrons must have been benefiting by the George Washington's birthday holiday observance. The traffic was not as heavy as usual.

One week from today is February 28 and the end of the present month. Likewise the extra day in the year's calendar will arrive for its once in four year's visit.

Probably unintentional was the loss of a big piece of nice green lettuce by a truck driver, in the middle of Mercer street, yesterday, but anyway, it wasn't very long afterwards, until a flock of birds were devouring it. Apropos of bird feeding this cold weather, it might be suggested that some fresh greens be thrown out to the little feathered fellows, along with bread.

Not that it's so cold, but that it has been cold so long, is what is bothering most people. Arent this weather, we haven't yet had any of those days back in '34 when it was 25 below zero and most of the pretty shrubbery was frozen.

WEEKLY LETTER

Monday, Feb. 24, 1936
The Castleton
12:15 to 1:30 p. m.

Fellow Rotarian: What should be the tariff policy of the United States? We had Mr. Clarence Patterson, Esq. give us a Jeffersonian Democrat's idea of the correct policy. So Monday we will have a straight Republican, Mr. Charles H. Young, Esq., former member of the Public Service Commission, give us the other angle of the tariff question. The moderator will be Charles Andrews.

BUTLER, 6:30 p. m. We want a big crowd to go over to Butler to renew our acquaintance with that bunch of good fellows. If you find at the last minute that you can't go, even though you have not made reservation, call the secretary and we will get transportation for you. We will get a big turnout. And we are furnishing the speaker of the evening; William J. Caldwell, Esq. will address the assembly on the subject.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home of his sister, Mrs. Jennie Kibler, New Galilee, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in Wilson cemetery.

F. A. Rowland. A lifetime resident of the New Bedford community, F. A. Rowland, passed away this morning at 7 o'clock, at the age of 84 years.

Mr. Rowland was born in the New Bedford vicinity on August 6, 1851, son of William and Elizabeth Allison Rowland.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maud Rowland, who is residing in Youngstown, O., and four step-children, Mrs. O. H. Rogers, with whom he had lived for the past 16 years, Vernon Wilson, of Los Angeles, California, Mrs. K. H. Stiver, of Sharon, and Mrs. Eva Appel, of Youngstown, O.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 1 p. m., in the O. H. Rogers home, New Bedford, and interment will be made in Evergreen cemetery.

Joseph W. Orsburn. Joseph W. Orsburn, died at his home, 233 Highland avenue, at 7:30 p. m. Friday, after being in poor health for the past four years. He would have been 84 years old today.

Born at Moravia, Pa., in 1852, he passed his long lifetime in Lawrence county. His parents were William and Jane Stockman Orsburn. For forty years he was employed by the Pennsylvania railroad and was retired on March 1, 1924. He had been a clerk in the freight department. For twenty eight years he was president of the Mutual Building and Loan Company and at the time of his death was serving as director.

His wife, Mrs. Annie Stuart Orsburn, daughter, Mrs. Samuel B. Cuthbert, of Wilkensburg, one son, John Orsburn Cuthbert, and one great-granddaughter Eleanor Louise Cuthbert, of Wilkensburg survive.

The body has been removed to the R. L. Boyd funeral home, 208 North Jefferson street, where friends may call until Sunday morning when it will be taken to the residence.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

TO SEEK FEDERAL FUNDS FOR ARMY CONSTRUCTION HERE

ory building program for the entire country.

The bill will provide that the money shall be an outright grant from the Federal government to the States concerned and all armories constructed would be State-owned. Agreement to sponsor and back such a bill was reached at a meeting of Pennsylvania congressmen Wednesday, which was arranged by Representative Don Gihgery. The Pennsylvania armory program was outlined to the congressmen by General Edward C. Shannon, commander of the Pennsylvania National Guard, and Adjutant General Frederick E. Kerr, and won complete approval of the 25 members present.

Both Republicans and Democrats were in the group which has pledged support so the drive for armory funds will be non-partisan, and it is expected the entire Pennsylvania delegation will be unanimously behind the armory bill by the time it reaches the house floor, its proponents say.

The reason Pennsylvania would get such a big share of the $75,000,000 is that it is one of only three states which have complete unit divisions of the National Guard, it was explained.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture two tons of water is required to produce the ingredients for a one-pound loaf of bread.

TEMPLE CONFERS HONORARY DEGREE UPON PRESIDENT

Congress to prove by other quotations that George Washington was in favor of just the opposite! Therefore, on this anniversary of his birth I propose to break a century old precedent. I shall not quote from George Washington on his birthday."

Praises Education. The president, did, however, elaborate on Washington's appreciation of the importance of education. Speaking for his own administration, Mr. Roosevelt said he was "proud to be head of a government" which has contributed since 1933 more than $400,000,000 toward educational advancement. This large sum was made available through the regular agencies and the works progress administration and the national youth administration, he said.

"We have rightly taken the position that in spite of the fact economic adversity through these years might impose upon the youth of the country distressing and unavoidable burdens," he said. "The government owed it to the future of the nation to see that these burdens should not include the denial of educational opportunities for the youth who were willing and ready to use them to advantage."

The president laid down three cardinal qualities of a true education. First, is "a sense of fair play among men."

Second, is "a sense of equality among men when they are dealing with things of the mind" because of great literature, music and the wonders of science should be available to all even though inequality continues in the world of material things.

Third, is "freedom in the pursuit of truth."

"No group or no government can properly prescribe precisely what should constitute the body of knowledge with which true education is concerned," the president declared. "The truth is found when men are free to pursue it."

Leaves For Cambridge. Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—President Roosevelt paid a flying visit to the City of Brotherly Love today to receive an honorary degree from Temple University.

A representative audience packed into Mitten Memorial hall for the ceremony.

President Charles Beury, of Temple, introduced Gov. George H.

Deny Reports Of Peace Proposal By Haile Selassie

(BULLETIN)

ROME, Feb. 22.—Denying Rome reports published in the United States that Emperor Haile Selassie is making moves for peace, officials of the Italian foreign office stated flatly today they have not heard of any such peace proposals. They said they were "most doubtful" that any proposals for peace had been made to the League of Nations by the Ethiopian emperor, as the published reports claimed.

At the Italian army headquarters at Makale, northern Ethiopia, "reports of foreign correspondents" that the Negus had proposed negotiations were officially denied.

"CLOCK MURDER" PUZZLES POLICE

Stettler, 25-year-old Swiss chauffeur, suddenly denied all connection with the double slaying.

Reputation Falsified. In his repudiation, however, which detectives frankly disbelieved, Stettler confessed devising the cunning apparatus which had set the 15-room death house afire after the murderer had left. This "infernal machine," he said he had given to a man whom he would name later.

Victims of the fiendish killing were Carl S. Barbour, 66, and his 61-year-old wife Dorothea. Their battered and charred bodies were discovered on a blazing bed by firemen who battled flames raging through the apartment which Barbour, a wealthy property owner, managed.

Beneath the grisly pyre, police later discovered a watch attached to a plate heater in such a fashion that the minute hand would make an electrical contact. Above this machine had been placed gasoline-soaked papers, police said.

bargo could not be applied successfully in view of United States neutrality legislation and the attitude of the American government.

Having thus side-stepped the oil embargo question, a substitute penalty against Il Duce's government will be considered by the committee of 18.

Some delegates will appeal for general tightening up of sanctions against Italy on grounds that Ethiopia is meeting difficulties in battling Premier Mussolini's fascist legions.

D. E. S. WORTHY MATRON HONORED AT ELKS CLUB

Friday evening, in the private dining room of the Elks club, officers and past matrons of Shenango Chapter, No. 333, Order of the Eastern Star, gathered for a dinner party to do honor to their worthy matron, Mrs. Lois Shreffler. The occasion proved one of the chapter's loveliest affairs, which took the form of a patriotic celebration, in keeping with the season.

At 6:30 o'clock, the guests were seated at long banquet tables. Novel Betsy Ross and George Washington cards in color, later used as card tables, designated the places. Tall red tapers in unique holders, and miniature silk American flags, added further to the gay setting. A most delicious chicken menu was served, and following, the group enjoyed a short period of chat about the fireside in the living room of the club. The remainder of the evening was whiled away informally with contests, pretty prizes being awarded those holding top scores. In bridge, Orville Brown, worthy patron of the chapter, was given the prize; for anagrams, Harriett Truby was the winner and in 500 Rhoda Leslie received the award.

In bringing the occasion to a close, Mrs. Shreffler was presented with a beautiful personal gift, from her associates, testifying to the esteem which she is held. Arrangements were capably handled under the chairmanship of Mrs. Gula Hess and Mrs. Lena Weber, who had charge of the evening's festivities.

Amity Club.

Amity club members recently enjoyed a theatre party. Following the show, the group assembled in a local tea room for a light luncheon. On Tuesday evening, March 3, Miss Rose Sacripant, Electric street, will entertain the club.

AMERICAN COMPOSERS FEATURED MONDAY

A most interesting program of music by American composers has been arranged for the February meeting of the Music club at the Highland U. P. church Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Miss Elizabeth Williams is the hostess for the evening, and in opening the program will report an interview with Garth Edmundson, a local musician, who is rapidly gaining world-wide prominence as a composer. In this interview Mr. Edmundson has been revealed not only as a composer and authority in matters musical, but also as a well-informed interested student of present-day developments in all of the arts and sciences.

SHOWER EVENT FOR MRS. JOHN FRAZIER

As a courtesy to Mrs. John Frazier, the former Pearl McClure whose marriage was announced a week ago, a lovely evening party and shower was held Friday evening, in the home of Mrs. Roy Beals, on Moody avenue.

Guests numbering 20 were members of the Sunday school class at the First U. P. church, taught by Mrs. W. S. McCaslin. They spent delightful hours playing bridge and easy money, the favor in the former contest going to Mary McBride, and in the latter game to Helen Jenkins.

Luncheon was beautifully appointed in red and white, like tones being carried through to the ice cream which was white with a red hatchet in the center. Especially nice was a large three-tiered wedding cake presented to the bride as a surprise, by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charlotte Frazier. Aides in serving were Mrs. Robert McCullough, Virginia Schefnock and Mrs. W. S. McCaslin.

In presenting gifts to Mrs. Frazier, the guests used a novel method by having Gladys Beals compose a rhyme, instructions as to the places they were hidden. She found most attractive and useful presents.

P. E. O. SISTERHOOD HAS ANNUAL ELECTION

P. E. O. Sisterhood met Friday evening, in the Chestnut street home of Mrs. Grace Platt and transacted considerable business which was of interest to the chapter. An election of new officers featured with the result that Mrs. John McNeill was re-elected president; Mrs. R. P. Roberts, vice president; Miss Alisan Leslie, recording secretary; Miss Anne Rice, corresponding secretary; Mrs. I. M. Henley, treasurer; Miss Kate Stockman, chaplain; Miss Maude Young, guard. A buffet luncheon during the social hour following was enjoyed, the hostess being assisted in serving by her sister, Miss Nannie Mitchell.

WHYLE-AWAY CLUB DESSERT-BRIDGE

Mrs. E. H. Fehl, Ray street, pleasantly received members of the Whyle-Away club in her home on Thursday afternoon for a 1:30 dessert-bridge. Small tables were attractively set in patriotic suggestions, novel miniature gum-drop cherry trees and tiny hatchets being found at the various places as favors. The hostess was assisted in serving a most tempting dessert by Mrs. Joseph Campbell.

The balance of the leisure period was spent enjoyably in playing cards. Mrs. W. H. Jones and Mrs. Joseph Campbell carried off the honor score prizes. The latter also received the traveling trophy.

Their next assemblage on Friday, March 6, will be held with Mrs. David Fisher, Young street.

CURRENT EVENTS '06 PLAN COLONIAL PARTY

In commemorating the birthday of George Washington at this season of the year, Current Events '06 will hold the annual party on Monday afternoon, February 24, in the nature of a Colonial affair, in the home of Mrs. E. A. Cook, 718 1/2 Croton avenue. The hour is 2 o'clock.

Planning the program is a committee composed of Mrs. Harry Barnes, Mrs. Clyde Saunders and Mrs. L. F. Rehner. The social part of the afternoon will be in charge of Mrs. T. C. Armstrong, Mrs. J. R. Lutton and Mrs. E. C. Morrow.

HETRICK-BAKER WEDDING THURSDAY

A pretty wedding took place in the home of Rev. Samuel C. Baker, New Castle, Pa., on February 21 at 11 o'clock in the morning, when he united in marriage Lydia Hetrick and Charles Baker.

The couple had as their attendants Alice Hetrick, as bridesmaid, and Gerald Maxwell, as best man. The bride was becomingly attired in blue with matching accessories.

In the evening a wedding supper was served by the bride's mother in the Hetrick home. Covers were arranged for Rev. and Mrs. Samuel C. Baker and son Patterson, Mrs. Pres-stover and Mr. and Mrs. William Hetrick and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker are members of Clifton Flats mission. Mr. Baker is employed at the Shenango Pottery and the couple will make their home in New Castle.

EAST BROOK CLUB MEETING ON FRIDAY

Meeting of the East Brook Garden Club scheduled for next Tuesday, has been postponed until Friday, February 28, when it will meet in the home of Mrs. Harold Allen.

Re-Deal Club

Miss Dorothy Kay, of Hazelcroft avenue, entertained the Re-Deal club members at an evening of bridge, Thursday. In the high score honors were won by Mrs. J. H. Jones and Miss Emily Reynolds.

The guests were invited to the dining room where they were served a nicely prepared lunch. The centerpiece of flowers, the lighted candles and George Washington birthday favors were pretty table ornaments.

In serving Miss Kay was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Fred Kay, and sister, Mrs. Jack Dagon.

On March 5 the club will meet at the home of Miss Marguerite Mullen, Morton street.

Plamor Club

At two tables, members of the Plamor club enjoyed several rounds of cards Friday evening, in the home of Mrs. Matilda Thellman, on South Beaver street. The prize winners were Mrs. Anne Cepce, Mrs. John Seinkner and Betty Seinkner.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her sister, Mrs. Jane Frances, who was a special guest, together with Hilda and Margaret Lenhart.

Next Monday evening, the club will have a theatre party and on March 5, the regular meeting will be in the home of Donna Crum, on East Reynolds street.

Phi-Nites Season's Party

One of the nicest parties in keeping with the season was the George Washington's birthday, was held by the Phi-Nites last evening when Edna Eckelberger, Sheridan avenue, was hostess to the club. Bridge formed the main pastime, prizes being captured by Mrs. Vincent Travers and Hazel Valle.

Later, at individual tables which had been reset with red, white and blue covers and places being marked with dainty favors, the hostess served a tasty lunch.

The club will meet in two weeks with Althea Fauzey, Chestnut St.

M. and N. C. Club

Mrs. C. D. Wharton extended delightfully hospitably on Thursday afternoon, to members of the M. and N. C. club, in her home on Wilmington avenue.

Three tables of 500 provided amusement, the high score awards being captured by the hostess, Mrs. Wharton and Mrs. Hattie Nowling. On February 5, the group will be guests of Mrs. E. R. Wallover, in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Sadler, on Pearson street.

F. H. and C. Club

F. H. and C. Club associates gathered in the home of Mrs. Blodwin Davis on Knox avenue, Friday afternoon for a period of quilting. There were eleven members present including the hostess who supervised the serving of an appetizing tureen menu at 6:30. Mrs. Amanda Woodruff assisted.

In two weeks, the group will again assemble in the Davis home for another afternoon's quilting.

Priscilla Sewing Club

Members of the Priscilla Sewing club, spent an enjoyable session on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. G. D. Rainey, who is recuperating from an operation she recently underwent. Sewing and chat composed the program, and a dainty lunch was served as the concluding feature by Mrs. Mack Comenick. Miss Perina Papilli was a special guest.

YOUNG GIRLS FORM NECAHI EIGHT CLUB

Friday evening a new social group of young girls met in the home of Ellen Kelly on Fairmont avenue and formed a club which will be known as the NecaHi Eight.

At election of officers, Jean Waddington was chosen president; Jean Pugh, vice president; Jane Martin, secretary; Ellen Kelly, treasurer; Louise Delin, social committee chairman. It was decided to meet fortnightly, the next affair to be held on March 6.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to bridge, the prize going to June Cox. At a late hour the hostess led her guests to the dining room to a gaily decorated table where red, white and blue tones predominated in the George Washington luncheon. The delicacies were served by the hostess' sister, Grace Kelly.

There were covers for Jean Waddington, Jean Pugh, Jane Martin, Ellen Kelly, Louise Delin, June Cox, Bernice Klink and Burdell Giles.

EVENING GATHERING FOR J. O. S. MEMBERS

Mrs. Alice Young was hostess on Friday evening to J. O. S. club members, in the home of Mrs. George Emerick, Martin street, who entertained in a delightfully informal manner. Special guests included Mrs. Melford Wright, Mrs. Boyd Stunkard and Mrs. Joseph Wagner. A contest in 500 was enjoyed, three tables of players competing for honors. Prizes were captured by Mrs. Edward Hill and Mrs. Oscar Leonard, the latter of whom received the hostess gift. The hostess served lunch following play, with Mrs. Edward Hill and Mrs. Alice Jinks, as aides. George Washington appointments prevailed throughout, in all details, lending color to the setting. Friday, March 13, members will meet with Mrs. Edward Hill of Ray street.

DAUGHTERS OF LYDIA TO SEW AT HOSPITAL

Wednesday morning of the approaching week, February 26, members of the Daughters of Lydia of the First Presbyterian church, will preside as the hostess group in charge of the sewing at Jameson Memorial hospital.

They invite other women of the city to join this meeting, which will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning and last until 12 o'clock noon.

WHO PAYS FOR ALL THIS?

THERE is one thing we notice increasingly as time wears on and this is the total indifference of those benefited by the New Deal, first as to the cost and second as to those out of which pockets the money comes. The belief that the government has unlimited sums to spend is a popular fallacy.

Suppose consumers of light and power are benefited ultimately by the entry of the government into this field. Whose money is building those huge dams and buying the transmission lines? Whose money is making rural electrification cheap? Is it not the money of the taxpayers?

Is the general taxpayer getting any credit for this? He is not, principally for the reason that popular ignorance fails to realize that the government is not spending its own money but your money.

This money is not plucked out of the sky. After all, people have to work for it. It comes out of the pocket of the income taxpayer. It comes out of the pocket of the smoker. Every time you drive up to a filling station and buy ten gallons of gas you pay a tax of 50 cents, part of which goes to the federal government. This merely enumerates a few of the direct tax items. The number of indirect taxes is legion.

But the sad thing is that out of every dollar the government is spending with such a lavish hand 50 cents is piling up every year in the shape of debt, so that not only is the load falling heavily on the present taxpayer but as much again will fall on his children and his children's children. Do those politicians who prate about what they are doing for the youth of the land realize how much of a tax burden they are placing on the shoulders of youth?

The government is claiming credit for putting people to work through the WPA and the CCC. Very well! Let us look into this. For every individual out of a job there are four who have jobs. The four who are working may not know it, but the main support of those who are out of jobs falls on them—and they make up the class least able to bear it.

The idea that the huge cost of the New Deal is being borne by the rich is faulty. There are not enough of the rich and they have not enough money to do the job. Again, the rank and file will say, "Take it out of profits." But wages must be paid out of profits. They cannot be paid out of deficits. No profits; no wages. Consequently the more taxes, the less wages.

Every dollar paid out for taxes is a dollar that can't be paid out for wages. The higher the tax the less the wage. The higher the tax the higher the rent, the higher the cost of food, clothing and everything else—the higher the cost of living and the more distressing the lot of the wage earner.

Let us get away from the idea we can continue indefinitely to lift ourselves by our bootstraps. Let us remember that the cost of all this spending must be paid—and that the great bulk of it will be paid by 80 or 90 per cent of the people, the class least able to bear it.

THAT EXTRA DAY

Father Time, a well-known old gentleman who for a long, long while has been acclaimed for the extreme precision of his habits, basks, like many of us, in the light of a reputation not entirely of his own making. For he, accounted the most regular of regulars, has himself been regulated on more than one occasion and pretty severely, too.

If (to mention an outstanding instance or so) it had not been for Julius Caesar and Pope Gregory XIII, both of whom had rather pronounced ideas as to the advisability of calendar reform and the prestige and power to have such reforms made operative, we should not at this moment be well along in leap year with its gift of an extra day. Old Man Time may—and usually does—get the credit for this quadrennial largess, but it is only fair to remember that human hands and brains have had a part in the proceeding.

At any rate, the special gift of full twenty-four hours, each with its quota of sixty minutes, soon will be placed in humanity's lap. There should, of course, be particular plans for the individual, beneficent disposition of this extra revolution of the earth on its axis—extra, that is, so far as our current year is concerned—but, if the past is any criterion, the approaching February 29 will be, for most folk, just another day. That it should fall on a Saturday is, perhaps a bit propitious; this fact seems to carry some promise of unusually glorified week-ends.

COALITIONS

Senator Vandenberg's suggestion that Jeffersonian Democrats who desert President Roosevelt have places in the national councils if and when the Republicans carry the 1936 election apparently finds few dissenters. It does not, and cannot, mean a coalition government.

Whether they intended to or not, the Founding Fathers in the Constitution set the stage for two-party government. Parties have been born, have died and have been replaced by others, but at no time has the executive been under duress to invite into his cabinet members of opposing political faith, though several have done so.

When President Wilson, in 1918 while the World War was still on, made the mistake of asking for a Democratic house, he was sharply rebuffed by the voters. This signaled the ushering in two years later of twelve years of Republican rule. Similarly, when Mr. Hoover lost the house in 1930, and the now Vice President Garner became speaker, the sign was up for the end of an era at the 1932 election.

The proposal that Jeffersonians make common cause with the Republicans this time because of their hostility to the New Deal cannot be regarded as anything but an expedient. Should Mr. Roosevelt be defeated, these same men would be working for the reorganization of the Democratic party along lines more in keeping with its history. They and theirs will not be permanently satisfied with crumbs from the Republican table.

BRIG. GEN. MITCHELL is dead. Had his superiors, afraid to fly, unwillingly to think, listened to him, this country would lead all others in air power now, instead of trailing in the rear.

President Coolidge, who rode a safe electric horse is not to be blamed for allowing Mitchell to be dismissed from the air service, because he told the truth. Dull-minded Army officers that promoted his dismissal must be ashamed.

Mitchell, who commanded 1,500 American, British and French planes in the big war, was a good American, those that refused to hear him were the other kind.

WHILE UNITED STATES "G-men" were fighting gangsters, the United States for $1,500 was selling machine guns that cost the government about two million dollars.

NO SECRETS, MADAME
A woman whose name I do not know is laughing at me.

She has written me a teasing, humorous, a kind, a flattering letter.

So flattering, I should be too modest to quote it.

But nevertheless I'll do it, because I liked the letter—as who wouldn't?—and I wish to thank her—and this is the only way I can, because she did not sign her name.

She calls me the destroyer of her pride, the robber of her self-esteem, the pillager of her dignity, the shameless giver-away of her inner secrets.

She says to me: "How do you know so much about me? You've never even seen me. These inner secrets of mine—how do you know them so accurately? Have you been peeping? Are you an eavesdropper? How else could you be so well acquainted with my soul?"

Madame, I should put on my robes of mystery, veil my eyes, let my voice roll sonorously from my diaphragm, and pretend to be a master of the hidden and the mystical. (And be a most pretentious ass in doing so.)

And, Madame, how you'd laugh at me!

Because you know as well as I do, that there are no secrets. . . . And YOU know that if ever the other fellow says anything that is piercing and revealing true of you—or even trivially accurate—it's not because he has dissected with any magical scalpel the labyrinths of your being. It's merely that in some sudden moment of self-understanding, when the curtains of his own protective pride have been drawn aside, HE HAS SEEN HIMSELF. . . . He seems to be talking about you, but he is talking about his own heart.

Sometimes we discover what we think is a great secret about human beings. Then we chuckle and pride ourselves on our keen perception, on our understanding of human nature. And after we have made a great discovery, we shout it forth for everyone to hear. . . . Then, while we wait for applause and praise, some mild-voiced little fellow in the back of the hall pops up and says: "Why, thought everybody knew that—but not everybody blabs about it."

That's all I do, dear friend—I blab! (And I'm grateful for your generous letter.)

ONE WAY—NOT "A.A.A."
In November, Thomas Campbell, Montana "wheat king," started a caravan of trucks carrying six big tractors, four giant plows, several grain drills and other equipment needed for seeding purposes, over into the mild, warm San Joaquin Valley of California.

In this valley, Campbell has leased 14,000 acres of land under irrigation, on which he will plant 3,000 acres of flax as soon as he can get the ground ready, the crop to be harvested next May. Next spring he will take all of his machinery back to Montana, in time to put out his spring wheat.

Campbell rented this extra land to keep his high priced machinery busy more of the time, and produce a greater profit margin than from wheat alone.

Oh, well, the poor grain farmer needs assistance anyway.

LOST HIS CURL
Perhaps you have noticed that the famous curl no longer is in evidence on the forehead of Adolf Hitler, German dictator. The reason for the removal of the curl, according to a story told abroad, is a letter written Dr. Fuehrer by a German hairdresser exiled in Greece.

Incensed because cartoonists were using the curl to make Hitler appear ridiculous, the hairdresser wrote to the dictator suggesting that his barber be at fault. Some men might have been insulted at such a criticism.

When selecting appointments for a room, people invariably forget what the function of the floor is. They frequently give first consideration to their draperies and other hangings and later select the floor covering as an afterthought.

This is all wrong, as the floor is the base upon which the color scheme should be built.

If the floor and its covering do not appear to give the effect of stability and balance, the room will seem out of proportion and top-heavy.

If the rug is of a plain design, color accents may be used in the other appointments of the room, in the draperies and wallpaper.

A rug of colorful design should be accompanied by carefully selected upholstery wallpaper; and draperies of unobtrusive design, to prevent confusion and to give the room the required repose.

Treasury Offering Coming.
Will Be Eagerly Bought.
Europe Uneasy Over Money.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th St.
By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The U. S. Treasury is expected to make a $1,500,000 offering on March 16, an offering which will be satisfactory to financial New York. It will be grabbed up. In spite of all the shouting from financial interests, the government's securities still rank first. There is a reason—the federal government's taxing powers are enormous, and it has taxed merely one-third as much as England, for example.

Not that financial New York desires any more taxes! No, but the power to tax the income of 127,000,000 persons is an asset with which no private bond, even of the staunchest corporation, can compete. Then, again, there are funds that can find haven only in such "legal" securities as "government" bonds.

There is a disagreement in financial circles as to what kind of securities will be to their liking. Bitter anti-administration critics say the treasury department plans to "force" long-term government bonds on banks. On the other hand, insurance companies and private investors are eager for 9 to 12-year bonds with a 2½ per cent rate. There probably will be a compromise, to satisfy all factions, as the government will have to come hat in hand again.

But it should be remarked Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau is getting low rates on the money he borrows for Uncle Sam, which angers banks no little.

The government has maturities on March 16, and besides will need funds to take care of a working balance. Thus, that date.

ELEMENTS
The public may be misled, in its investments, by the inflation cry. The most dangerous inflation may not be in money, but in the excess credit, which will go into stocks. The public has been told to buy stocks as a hedge against inflation. But suppose the stocks themselves are part of the inflation?

Conservative persons believe that present prices are largely speculative.

And commodities? Is it not possible that consumption again will catch up with demand and that prices then will drop until consumption again increases?

And if commodity prices go too high, will foreign goods not come in? True, the dollar again can be devalued, which is in effect raising a tariff barrier against other nations. But, if that is done, will wealth not begin to flow elsewhere, and prices collapse again?

The cycle is a dangerous one, and in no wise cures the ill. And that ill is composed of trade barriers and maldistribution of income and increased.

EUROPE UNEASY
Europe, although investing money in American securities, is uneasy over the American dollar.

One of the chief dangers in the stock market lies in the fact that a great deal of European money can be withdrawn through abrupt liquidation.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute says Europe fears that "growing sentiment for inflation, coupled with budget difficulties, might force the administration to further devalue the dollar."

MORE PERSONS EMPLOYED
The downward trend of unemployment, after a slight interruption in November, was resumed in December, says the Alexander Hamilton Institute, which adds: "The number of unemployed persons in the United States declined from 12,414,000 in November to 12,056,000 in December, a new low for the movement. This compares with the previous low of 12,265,000 in October. In December, there were 1,063,000 fewer unemployed persons than in the same month of 1934 and 4,806,000 fewer than in March, 1933, when unemployment reached the peak for the depression."

"The number of persons employed in December was 38,813,000 as against 38,425,000 in November and 38,544,000 in October, the previous high for the recovery movement. Since March, 1933, 5,751,000 persons have been added to the ranks of the employed. The increase in employment has not been accompanied by a corresponding decrease in unemployment because of the gain in population."

Morning Message At Trinity Church About Washington

First President To Be Sermon
Subject At 11 O'clock
Service

"The Source of Washington's Greatness" will be the special subject of the sermon tomorrow morning in Trinity church at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Philip C. Pearson. He will tell why, all over the world, George Washington is regarded as one of the few great men of all time, and what makes Washington different from U. S. Grant, for example, who was both commander in chief and president, in the thoughts and hearts of all Americans.

At the evening hour, special hymns, scripture readings, psalms, anthem have been selected as appropriate to the Eve of the Feast of St. Matthias, the Apostle. His day is Monday, the 24th, when there will be Holy Communion at 9:30 Sunday evening, using the slight information known about St. Matthias in the Bible. Rev. Pearson will discuss the reasons why he was chosen to take the place of the traitor Judas, or "Qualities God Wants in Man."

Pleas Entered And Sentences Given At Court

Eight Boys Who Have Been Purloining Cars For Rides
Are Paroled

SEVERAL SENTENCED TO COUNTY JAIL

Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham held sentence court this morning at which a number of pleas were entered and sentences passed.

Eight boys, from 14 to 18 years of age, who have been picking up cars on the streets and operating them without the consent of the owners, entered pleas, and as it was their first appearance in court they were paroled for periods of three years.

In paroling the defendants Judge Chambers made it plain that if they are again caught taking cars, they will be sent to some penal institution. The boys who were paroled for three years were: Harry McCracken, Leroy Smith, Roger Cimini, James Buxton and Dick Ryhal. Other members of the gang, paroled for one year were, Robert Braby, Alfred DeJoseph and Dick Williams.

Members of the gang were arrested by city police after numerous complaints of cars having been taken, and also complaints of thefts from cars. Judge Chambers told the culprits that the offense is a very serious one, and that they could be sent to prison for long terms. However he was disposed to give them a chance, since it was the first time that they had been in court.

The boys were all told that they must earn money with which to pay their costs. Each was given a parole card, with instructions to report to Parole Officer Jack M. Dunlap, at regular intervals.

Other Sentences
Mike Miller, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, was fined $100 and costs and given thirty days to the county jail. A plea was made by his attorney in which it was stated that no accident was involved, and that Miller has a wife and three children to support.

Adam H. Pierce, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods, was sentenced to serve from three to six months in the county jail. He said that his home is in Utah, but that he has been in Lawrence county for several years, mostly working for farmers. He was out of work when he was met by a son of Bert Dinsmore. As he was without money or friends young Dinsmore took him to the home of his father, Bert Dinsmore, who kept him for four or five weeks. He repaid Dinsmore for his kindness by stealing a number of articles and selling them at pawn shops.

Frank Pilzys, for possessing liquor on which there was no revenue stamp, was sentenced to pay $300 fine and costs and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for two months.

Sentence Deferred
When Clarence Campbell, charged with the larceny of an automobile at Ellwood City was brought in for sentence, it was learned that he is under parole at Butler for a similar offense and also that he had been arrested at Youngstown for stealing a car. He was remanded to the county jail until the district attorney finds out if the Butler authorities want him for violating his parole.

Miss Janet Borland, who was arrested in company with Campbell was discharged.

Joseph Santo and Kenneth Walker, who were charged with operating a still and having liquor minus stamps, in their possession were brought in for sentence, but some doubt arose as to the penalty for operating a still under present conditions. District Attorney Mont L. Alley said that he had looked the law up and had a notation of it at his office, but he was not certain as to the act. An amicus of law books was carried into the court room and valiant efforts were made to find the law applicable to the case but without results. The law for untaxed liquor provides a fine of $300, or jail, but it was the manufacturing law that proved the jinx. Finally court was adjourned and the men were taken back to jail while the law is being investigated.

Albert Thomas, colored, of Ellwood City, for breaking and entering a building was sentenced to pay the costs, and was paroled for five years.

WITNESS WILL DEFY GOVERNOR HE MAINTAINS

bergh kidnapping and murder, dared the governor to arrest him.

A few hours earlier the Hauptmann defense decided to play its ace in the desperate fight to save the condemned slayer of Baby Lindbergh from the electric chair.

C. Lloyd Fisher, chief defense counsel, Governor Hoffman and Hunterdon county prosecutor Anthony M. Hauk convened in a mysterious session in the governor's private office in the state house last night.

Meeting In Secret

The greatest secrecy surrounded the meeting and none of the three would comment on what was being done.

But from an authentic source International News Service learned that the governor decided to seek the indictment of Whited on charges of perjury. The alleged evidence of perjury was supplied by Fisher.

Hauk, who helped prosecute Hauptmann, defened his mountaineer witness but was over-ruled by the governor. He will be forced today to "invite" Whited to come in for questioning on alleged discrepancies in his statements to police and his testimony at the trial.

If Whited refuses to accept the "invitation" to come in, the defense plans to have a warrant issued for his arrest, it was learned. Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, the condemned man's wife would sign the warrant.

Attorney Fisher declared this morning that a warrant, charging perjury, definitely would be issued and police were expected to pick up Whited within a short time. It was understood that, in view of Whited's defiance, he would not be taken into custody until police were armed with the warrant.

When this reporter found Whited early today, the former "crime of the century" witness made it clear that he will not accept any "invitations" to a grilling.

"I Told The Truth"
"I told the truth," he shouted. "If they want me they'll have to come and get me. And I won't go unless they have a warrant."

"The governor may think he is running the whole show and can have his way about everything, but he'll have to obey the law, same as anybody else."

"If he is looking around for a scapegoat to save his own skin, he can have me only if he wants to risk getting out a warrant. You tell him for me that this is my final word. Come and get me if he wants me but he better only come with a warrant because governor or no governor, he'll be put out of my house I'm living in."

"I told the truth at the trial and every time before the trial that I was questioned. It's just that the governor started something he can't finish and they're looking around for some dumbhead to pin some trouble on. Let him come ahead and I'll be ready. Nobody is going to frame me."

Indictment of Whited for perjury would open the way for the defense to demand a new trial for Hauptmann, it was learned, it would cause another postponement of Hauptmann's execution beyond any doubt. He is scheduled to go during the week of March 30.

Demands To See Governor

Lambertville, N. J. Feb. 22.—Millard Whited, Sourland mountain hill-billy, today climaxed his own personal circus maximus of the Lindbergh case by demanding that he be brought face to face with Gov. Harold G. Hoffman as a prelude to official grilling of his Flemington testimony that he twice saw Bruno Richard Hauptmann near the Lindbergh home prior to the kidnapping of baby Lindbergh.

Previously Whited has resisted—with a rare flow of language—threats, cajolery and persuasion designed to make him submit, without issuance of a formal warrant, to detention and questioning on his testimony.

After more than two hours of eloquence, however, Constable William Saunders and Hunterdon county detective William Dittinger finally wrung one concession from Whited. He would, he said, agree to go with them to Trenton provided they in turn agreed to bring him directly before the governor. It was believed the perspiring officers, at their wits end after fending fruitlessly with the garrulous Millard, would agree to his terms and that the governor and Whited would confront each other in the executive office some time this afternoon.

Biggest Boy In Nation Observes His Birthday

Alton, Ill., Youth Is Eight Feet
And Four Inches Tall At 18 Years

(International News Service)
ALTON, Ill., Feb. 22.—Today is the birthday of two big Americans—George Washington and Robert Wadlow, of Alton.

Robert is eighteen years old and eight feet four inches big today—and still growing. The youthful giant, who may become the largest man that ever lived, grew 2 and one half inches during the last year. He tips the scales at 390 pounds.

Robert who graduated from Alton high school recently, is now entered at Shurtleff College here, where he is taking a pre-legal course. He intends eventually to enter Washington University at St. Louis to continue his law studies.

All of the other members of Robert's family are of normal size. In addition to Robert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wadlow, there are four others in the family, two brothers and two sisters, Helen 16, Betty, 11, Eugene, 13, and Harold, Jr., 3.

The young giant's unusual growth is attributed to over-activity of the pituitary gland. Physicians have estimated that Robert may continue to grow for five or six more years.

Swanson-Roosevelt Both In Hospital

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Both the secretary and the assistant secretary of the navy were in naval hospital today.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Henry Latrobe Roosevelt, who is also a cousin of the president, joined his chief, Secretary of the Navy Swanson, in Naval hospital last night suffering from an acute attack of intestinal influenza.

Swanson has been in the hospital for some time suffering from pleurisy, which developed while he was recovering from a broken rib suffered in a fall at his home.

Approximately 30 applicants for positions as paid firemen were given a physical examination by Drs. Edwin H. Wilmarth and A. Acquiva in council chambers last night.

They will be notified at 7:30 p. m. Monday at council chambers if they passed the examination. If not they will not be permitted to take the mental test which will be held in council chambers, city hall at that time, Monday.

Monaghan Keeps Moving Fast In Westwood Probe

Allegheny County Detective
Hurries Home From Coast And Goes To Work

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 22.—Stopping neither for food or rest, County Detective Walter Monaghan returned to Pittsburgh from Los Angeles to plunge into a reinvestigation of three violent deaths in the Westwood family today.

Relentless and tenacious as ever, Monaghan drove back in one lap from Tennessee with a prisoner he picked up in California, deposited his man in the county jail, hurried to his home for a hasty "hello" to his family, and rushed away on a mysterious mission without pausing for supper last night. He returned home at 5 o'clock this morning, alone, slept a brief while and then resumed his whirlwind investigation.

It was Monaghan's relentlessness that finally solved the slaying of Mrs. Martha Westwood last July 10 for which her husband, James J. Westwood, former justice of the peace, was doomed to life imprisonment by a jury. Monaghan is now reinvestigating the deaths of Westwoods' daughter, Clara, 14, and Mrs. Westwood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Winkler. Clara's death was pronounced an accidental shooting by the coroner and the Winkler deaths murder and suicide.

Questioned Nurse

While on the coast, Monaghan questioned Miss Julia P. Caryll, the nurse who attended Clara in her dying moments. It was believed something having an important bearing had caused Monaghan to refuse food and sleep after his long drive. He confided in no one although his associates were anxious to confer with him.

The doughty detective said Miss Caryll had given him information warranting further investigation of Clara's death. He declined to say any more until after a conference with District Attorney Andrew T. Park.

Roosevelt Will Share Ceremonies At Harvard Club

To Take Part In Initiation Program
Tonight As Ordinary Citizen

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 22.—Heavy paned doors with a shiny brass plate engraved "Fly club," which tonight will close upon the faces of a nation and make a president an ordinary citizen, were scrubbed clean today.

They will swing open for President Roosevelt. They will shut behind Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harvard graduate '04, attending the 100th annual dinner of Fly club to witness the initiation of his youngest son, John. He will give a short talk, perhaps pound a battered piano, present his son with the gold "key," miniature of a lion, and a medal, and listen to John tell of his progress as a candidate for the hasty Pudding club "chorus."—the latter part of the Fly club initiation. Everything is strictly "off the record."

A detail of 600 Boston, Cambridge, Metropolitan and State police was assigned to a three-mile route the president will take by automobile after arriving here by special train. Fifty thousand persons were expected to line the route and will be held back by police at 40 foot intervals all along the way. Bridges the president's automobile was to travel over or under were to be kept clear of traffic and pedestrians. Police were ordered to face the crowds. A quarter-mile square area around the Fly club in Cambridge was to be roped off.

Cleveland Officers Say Man Held Here Not Suspect Wanted

Detective Rosensaw of the P. R. E., and several detectives from the Cleveland police department, who came here today stated that "Rest" Vaughn, colored, arrested by P. R. E. Patrolman Mont Richards in Mahoning avenue, last night, is not the slayer of P. R. E. detective, Eugene Gurganis who was shot at Cleveland last October.

Vaughn was liberated and immediately went to a drugstore in East Washington street, acted disorderly and was re-arrested by Patrolman Cecil Suber. He was returned to a jail cell.

Duquesne Banks Fail To Close

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday may be a holiday to most of the banking world but it's only the twenty-second of February to two Duquesne banks. While doors of district banks were closed today in observance of Washington's birth anniversary, it was business as usual at the First National Bank of Duquesne and the Duquesne Trust Company. Their reasons for the unorthodox move apparently centered around competition for local business.

Ice choked harbor at Evansville, Ind., threatening serious damage to Ohio river craft.
Ice gorges virtually the entire 1,283-mile length of the Ohio river have damaged shipping. This is a scene in the harbor at Evansville, Ind. The gorge seen here is 72 miles long—virtually unprecedented in records of the lower river. Similar scenes are visible from Pittsburgh to the Mississippi river.

ALCANZA CLUB HAS ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Alcanza club associates celebrated the 24th anniversary of their organization in 1912, with a dinner event Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Thompson on Linton street.

At the long table places were arranged for 12 guests who were attracted by the artistic centerpiece of tall red tapers and patriotic favors. Mrs. Ben Jones assisted with the delectable menu, which was topped off with the serving of luscious fruit which had been sent from Florida by four club members, Mrs. Eleanor Lazear, Mrs. Elizabeth Richards, Mrs. Eva Baker and Mrs. Elizabeth Schoenfeld, who are sojourning there.

During the evening, vocal solos were contributed by the young niece and nephew of the hostess, David and Grace Seymour, children of Mrs. Linda Thompson Seymour and the late Mr. Seymour, who were for a number of years missionaries in Africa. The songs were sung in native African tongue which made them more than usually enjoyable. Other songs were sung by Ruth Thompson, daughter of the hostess.

The next regular club meeting will take place on March 26 with Mrs. Ben Jones, Temple avenue.

Hall Honored At Credit Gathering

Is Named Delegate To National Credit Convention In Omaha At Washington Meeting

Ray F. Hall, of this city, who is president of the Associated Credit Bureaus of Pennsylvania, was significantly honored at the Washington District conference of the National Credit Reporting Association, held at Washington, D. C., this week, when he was named as delegate from Pennsylvania to the National convention, which will take place in Omaha, Neb., in June.

The convention was an interesting one, Mr. Hall reports, one of the features being a visit to the Department of Justice. Exhibits in the Hauptmann case are on display there, along with the death mask of Dillinger, and many relics of famous crimes of the nation, which have been solved by the department.

Await Attempt Of Johnson To Throw Dollar Across River

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The 204th anniversary of the birth of George Washington today found the national capital's attention turned to the river bank of the first president's farm near Fredericksburg, Va., where thousands gathered to see whether Walter Johnson could duplicate Washington's legendary feat of throwing a silver dollar across the Rappahannock.

While the capital led the entire nation in celebrating the anniversary of Washington with appropriate ceremonies here, The interest of Washingtonians was centered chiefly on the outcome of the bet which Rep. Sol Bloom (D) of New York, made with Walter Johnson that he could not toss a silver dollar across the Rappahannock.

Bloom started the controversy by asserting recently that Washington never could and never did throw a dollar across the Rappahannock because the river was 1,320 feet wide in colonial days.

Johnson expressed the belief it could be done and Bloom offered to bet him 20 to 1 that the famous "soupbone" which for a generation baffled American League batters could not hurl a silver dollar across the Rappahannock.

Johnson accepted the challenge and has been tossing silver dollars against the side of his farm in Maryland for several days, warming up.

He tried to toss a silver dollar across the Potomac river yesterday as a sort of dress rehearsal for today's event, but the coin fell 72 feet short of the actual distance across the Rappahannock.

Remarks by the pastor—Rev. W. W. Nelson.

Offering.
Benediction by Rev. E. Walker.
Miss Cornelia Henley will be mistress of ceremonies.

Large Crowd Is Present At Party Given In Cathedral

Washington's Birthday Event Draws Four Hundred People Last Evening

Four hundred Consistory members and their families were present at the Washington's Birthday party, held in the Cathedral last evening, when a dinner and program of entertainment was given under the auspices of the entertainment committee.

C. Merle Ransley, of Beaver Falls, presided and introduced the W. P. A. orchestra from the 14th district, an organization of 35 pieces, who presented an interesting program of music following the dinner.

Miss Nellie Brady presented a Military Tap dance number and Miss Mary Alice Falls, gave a Hawaiian dance number, as special features.

Dancing and cards followed the program in the auditorium.

Had favorable weather conditions prevailed, the biggest crowd of the winter would likely have attended, many of the members who come from a distance, having cancelled their reservations because of the extreme cold weather earlier in the week.

During the evening, a testimonial was presented to Commander in Chief John E. White, who was prevented from attending because of a recent operation. A large wheel with the words Valley of New Castle Consistory, around the outside edge had been prepared, and was signed by all present, the names of the officers being placed around a picture of Washington, in the center, followed by the names of the others around the outer edge of the circle.

Local Pottery Leads Field In Sanitary Ware

Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Co., Introduced Radical Improvements OPERATE THROUGH DEPRESSION YEARS

Coincident with the Industrial Exhibit being sponsored by the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company is celebrating its thirty-fifth year of continuous operation in the sanitary pottery field. Since 1901 the Universal has been a leader in the manufacture of vitreous sanitary ware, but the modern pottery of today is vastly different from the modest little plant started just at the turn of the century.

The history of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company is unique in its field. It was the first company of its kind to inaugurate the liquid unit casting method and virtually overnight changed the basic methods of production in the business of producing sanitary ware. By this innovation came smoother internal construction.

Startle Industry Later the Universal started the pottery industry by inaugurating the tunnel kiln method of firing the ware. Competitors said it couldn't be done, but Universal proved that it could be done successfully. Today it is the accepted method of baking ware.

Still later Universal brought out a "harder than glass" surface glaze. This glaze is so hard and the process of application is so unique that it cannot check or craze, or stain, neither does it permit of absorption through long years of service.

In 1926 Universal again surprised its competitors by introducing colors in matched tints for bathroom and powder room ensembles. Like previous innovations this was received with querulous looks by the trade but today colored bathroom ware is accepted for its beauty and quality. Yet another innovation instituted by Universal was the Colonial design for graceful, style enduring lavatories, drinking fountains and water closets.

Today they can be seen across the United States. The Universal plant has been practically "depression proof". During the past five chaotic years the plant has operated averaging approximately 200 employees. Not every month has been a full month but in the deepest trough of the depression Universal was working. Quite naturally the executives of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Company are proud of the record of the plant and the men in the plant. Just so is the City of New Castle proud of this local industry that has operated so steadily and successfully.

On the occasion of the thirty-fifth birthday of the officers of the company, President W. Keith McAffee, Vice President Fred A. Glenn and Secretary Clyde M. Whitaker express their appreciation of the loyalty and co-operation demonstrated by the employees of the company and the citizens of New Castle.

EAST BROOK

CHURCH NOTES

East Brook U. P. February 23—Sabbath school at 10 a. m. Miss Margaret Jameson, Supt.; morning worship service at 11 o'clock with Robert Henderson of Grove City, Y. P. C. U. meeting at 7:30 with Howard Kendall as leader. The topic for the evening will be "Things For Which We Stand".

George Young led last Sunday's Y. P. C. U. meeting. He had as a special speaker Victor Wagner of New Castle. Vic had with him his dog, Bonnie, and he told in a very interesting way the training necessary for the dogs to become eyes for the blind. A large group of young people and adults was present to hear the talk.

MERCER PRESBYTERY RALLY Members of the Y. P. C. U. are informed that Monday evening, February 24, is the time of the Presbyterian rally in the Farrell U. P. church. The meeting begins with a banquet at 6:30.

EAST BROOK NOTES

Mrs. James Edie is reported on the sick list. Helen Young spent Wednesday evening with Miss Mable Weimer of Croton avenue, New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pontius and family spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McKnight and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Patterson attended the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson-Taylor of Mt. Jackson on Tuesday. Thelma Dean of Princeton, Kenneth Kaufman of New Wilmington, Robert Jack, Virginia and Margaret Jameson visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Christian T. Hallman of Dormont.

Mrs. Margaret Houston and Mrs. Mary McCreary were special guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McKnight and family. The day honored the birthdays of Mrs. McCreary and Mrs. McKnight.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ARTICLES ARE FILED

A superintendent of schools writes: "I do not know how often you hear from your column, but it should cheer you to know that a Mrs. of my city came to confer with me today regarding one of her children, and in about her second sentence she began quoting you. I chimed in with my warm appreciation of your articles, and that you had helped me often when I wrote you, and she said she had written you a few times, so we got along famously. I learned that she, too, often clips and files the articles which help her most, just as I do."

I have written this superintendent in response to his request several times, though his questions are so hard that I don't do so well at them. "Our teachers all read your column," said an eastern superintendent of schools, and many others write me words of encouragement. So do preachers, judges, lawyers, college professors, club leaders, Sunday school teachers and school teachers. "As a teacher of a class of women," writes one mother. "Also people with very little education write to me, and their letters are among the best I read."

Battling Average High. A number of my writers say, "I do not agree with you always." One said I made a batting average of 35 per cent. I thought that was pretty good.

I sometimes wish that some of my readers did not take me quite so seriously as they do, since I have my limitations. There is danger, indeed, in always taking any such advice literally, since it cannot take into account all the factors of the particular problems at hand.

I beg to caution my readers who quote my column to teachers and principals to employ discretion in doing so. The particular methods they use may run counter to my advice, when they would resent the suggested criticism, in which event the teacher's purposes would be defeated. Besides, they may be able to quote from many others who disagree with me. You know that I am often out of step with the crowd.

I would like to print more of your letters, but lack of space forbids. However, most of them are answered in my general articles. All your letters, sent me in care of this paper, are heartily welcomed, whether you agree or disagree with me. I learn most from those who disagree. Please enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope when a reply is desired. I still have some copies of the Parent's Prayer to be had free in like manner.

On Court House Hill

Two radios have recently been presented to inmates of the county home for their individual use, and it is said that another inmate is expected a radio soon. A good opportunity for some public spirited citizen or organization exists to secure the lasting gratitude of inmates by presenting radios for general use in the sitting or assembly rooms. One could be used in the ladies' room and one in the men's. This would give an opportunity for every inmate who is able to leave his or her room to hear the programs. The county has never provided radios for the reason that it has not been believed that it is within the province of the county to provide amusements.

An application for a new trial has been filed by defendants in the case of William J. Gray against R. J. Totten and A. W. Thompson against whom a verdict for $275 was rendered, because of a tree falling upon the Gray car at New Bedford.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has not received a visit yet from the flock of state policemen who are investigating conditions in jails, penal and other institutions of the state. Sheriff Pritchard says that he is ready for them when they come, as he has everything in first class shape about the county jail. Commenting upon the investigations now under way an attorney who was in the sheriff's office yesterday remarked that these institutions would get along a great deal better if they were left alone by a lot of long haired men and short haired women. They go around finding fault with everything, seeming to think that the penal institutions of the state should be equipped like first class hotels and furnish bills of fare for the inmates to compare with meals at Delmonico's.

F. W. Hall, G. M. Arp, Theodore Altmire and Harvey Sumner have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Steve Rosashon and Carolina Smiley in which the plaintiffs claim $12,949.64 due on the lease of a coal bank and equipment in Mahoning township.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received from the fingerprint de-

Mirrors And Screens Are Made In City

Reliance Manufacturing Company, New Industry, Proves Successful

PRODUCTS ARE WIDELY USED

One of the newest industries in the city, the Reliance Manufacturing Company, has enjoyed an expanding business during the past year, and the plant, backed by local capital is now distributing its products in 26 different states in the Union, from coast to coast.

The products of this local industry, mirrors and decorative folding screens, will be on display at the big Industrial Exposition, which opens Monday in the display rooms of the Lawrence Auto Sales Company on South Mercer street.

The company was organized on March 1, 1935, and occupies the plant formerly used for the manufacture of radios on Florence avenue.

Lake S. McNab, former post master, is general plant manager and John W. Patton is sales manager.

Their products are sold principally to the large department stores throughout the country, and have met with a good demand. The average number of employees on the payroll is 25, many of whom are skilled workers in the glass industry, who have been brought here from other cities.

The highest quality of plate glass is used in the manufacture of the mirrors. Mr. McNab states, it being the aim of the company to produce only a high quality merchandise.

Mercer County Farmers To Meet

Annual Meeting Of Agricultural Association To Take Place On February 26

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Feb. 22.—Over 1000 invitations to the annual meeting of the Mercer County Agricultural Extension Association meeting called for February 26 in the assembly room of the court house have been sent out by Farm Agent C. H. Waha.

The agent reports over 300 attending the 1935 meeting of the association with every expectation that the 1936 crowd will increase this total. There will be two sessions starting at 10 a. m. to noon then luncheon at 12 o'clock, followed by an afternoon session.

Edward Rohrbeck of State College who is in charge of the publicity of the state bureau of agriculture will make the address of the day. The annual report of the bureau will be read by Agent Waha showing the amount of work and contacts made during the year.

The members will elect directors for the ensuing year.

Local Men Write Feature Stories

March issues of two leading out-of-doors magazines contain feature stories by two New Castle men.

In the Outdoors Magazine, is one of the feature articles, written by N. R. Casilio, Winter avenue. In Hunter-Traders-Trapper, another story, "Thirty Minutes From Boston," was also composed by Mr. Casilio. The latter magazine contains an article written by Owen Penfield Fox, city forester. It is titled, "The Osprey—American Merganser." The story is nicely illustrated by two pen and ink sketches by the author.

Miss Helen Sankey has been teaching for Prof. William Rainey who has been absent on account of the severe illness and death of his grandmother at Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stevenson are moving into their new residence at New Wilmington the first of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Cane of West Liberty and family are moving into Clarence Stevenson's farm.

John Merett has resumed his duties as mail carrier. He has been unable to work for several days on account of an injured leg caused by a fall. Robert McNulty has been substituting in his absence.

Miss McCoy has assumed her duties at the consolidated high school having been absent on account of the severe illness of her mother in Grove City. Miss Martha McCune has been substituting in her place.

The funeral of Mrs. Nettie McClelland, aunt of Mrs. Charles Eppinger and Mrs. Joe Winder was held at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon. After the services the remains were taken to Franklin for interment.

Arthur McCommons had the misfortune to be badly burned around his face and shoulders when the furnace at the Robert Armstrong home which he was stirring up belched out fire. The terrific force knocked him to the floor.

The British ministry of labor regards tailors employed to press clothes in hotels as "hotel workers," and exempts them from the scales of hours and pay fixed for tailors.

NEW CASTLE-BUTLER PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Section Three Title Chance For Winners

Winner Of Tonight's Game Will Play Beaver Falls For Sectional Toga

Preliminary Game At 7 O'Clock, Expect Biggest Crowd Of Year At Battle

With the Section Three championship playoff with Beaver Falls High hanging before their eyes, New Castle High "Red Hurricane" basketball team and Butler High quintet will battle tonight in the George Washington gym in what has turned out to be the most important game of the season. The preliminary game between the reserves of New Castle and Butler will start at 7 o'clock. Indications point to the biggest crowd of the season.

Important Battle

Beaver Falls High continued its downward slump last night at the Beaver Falls High floor by taking it on the chin from the New Brighton High quintet, 31 to 25. It was a third straight setback for the Section Three leaders.

What a setting for the game here tonight. Butler high defeated New Castle at Butler 19 to 13, and it looked as if the defeat would put New Castle out of the running. New Castle and Butler, thanks to New Brighton, are both battling for the playoff right to meet Beaver Falls at a neutral site.

Will Fight Hard.

New Castle will fight to the last ditch tonight—first, to atone for that setback at Butler and, second, to tie for the section three leadership.

If ever Phil Bridenbaugh and the boys wanted to win, it is this game tonight. If you like basketball you are sure to get your money's worth out of this set. Butler on the other hand will be out there trying equally as hard for a victory. Butler has a smooth ball club and one of the best in the league, according to those who follow basketball.

New Castle will have to be better than good tonight to upset the "Scopminers". A lot will depend on the Emil Grommes, the big center, who will be pitted against Pataky, one of the best centers in the league. Covert is another lad on whose shoulders rests a lot of responsibility. George Adams, too, can help win this game, with his dependable guarding.

"Chinkie" Dutkin and either Nocera or Mumford will get the starting forward jobs. It is indicated, with Johnnie Karik ready to enter the game at any time.

Watch Webster.

In "Pannie" Webster, the Butler high team has the leading scorer in section three and one of the most dangerous men since the days of "Bus" Reiber. Webster is the real backbone of the Butler team and if New Castle can stop Webster, they will have accomplished something no team has been able to do this year.

With Webster at forward will be Paffrath, another high scorer, with Pataky at center of course, and Leith and Dillon at the guards. This constitutes just about the smoothest team that Butler high has had for many moons and with a capable reserve left, Coach Regis Heinzer is well fortified.

One Big Chance.

A week or so ago the chances of New Castle and Butler having a chance to win the section three championship seemed as remote as Jim Farley being the keynoter at the Republican convention, but that swell fold-up by Beaver Falls losing to New Castle, Butler and New Brighton in a row makes it possible for New Castle to again enter the W. P. I. A. L. basketball spotlight.

The game tonight will be handled by Yans Wallace, one of the finest officials in the business, and by Dan Brickley.

The probable lineups:

New Castle	Butler
Dutkin	Webster
Nocera
Mumford	Paffrath
Grommes	Covelli
Covelli	Adams
Adams	Dillon

Referee—Yans Wallace.
Umpire—Dan Brickley.
Time of main game—8 o'clock.

Polish Falcons To Play Natrona

The Polish Falcons will play the Natrona Falcons Sunday afternoon at the Falcon hall at 2:30 o'clock. In the preliminary game the Falcon Reserves will play the Roosevelt of Youngstown.

The New Castle Falcons under Marion Kolodjeski will try to avenge a defeat suffered at the hands of Natrona earlier in the year.

Bessemer Noses Shenango, 30-28 In Long Contest

Red And Black Clad Passers Gain Tie In Section 22 Race, Friday Night

THREE EXTRA PERIODS PLAYED

In the most exciting basketball contest of the season at Bessemer, and probably the longest game played on any Lawrence county court in sometime, a never give up quintet flaunting the colors of Bessemer high school, continued its struggle for section 22 honors by winning a hair-raising 30-28 triumph over Shenango high Friday.

Three extra periods were played before the winner was decided. Just a few miles away, while Bessemer-Shenango were enacting their marathon event, Wampum disposed of East Brook 26-19. As a result, Bessemer and Wampum are deadlocked for honors to represent section 22 in the W. P. I. A. L. title fight. Monday night the two teams will play at Shenango township floor for the section 22 crown.

The basketballers from East New Castle started out like a whirlwind. The Coach Phelps machine sent the sphere through the hoops from all angles of the court in the first period, scoring 14 markers. Bessemer only scored five points. In the second period the Shenango team lost its bearings and the score, Bessemer annexed three more points as the half ended with Shenango sporting a 14-8 lead.

Again in the third period the Bessemer defense proved airtight. The Shenango boys once more failed to score. Their opponents took advantage and knotted the count at 14-14 at the end of the third stanza. During the final quarter the schoolboys found the nets for nine more points. The contest ended with the score tied 23-23.

During the first extra period, the Cement City lads were holding a 2-point lead as the clock was clicking the final seconds. Lysko, Shenango center, let one loose from mid-center; the sphere sailed right through the nets to bring about another tie. The second extra period saw the Shenango team pile up a three-point lead which looked as good as gold with only 14 seconds left. Bessemer converted a free throw and just before the end of the period, Olsen flipped one through to tie the count, 28-28.

The schoolboys battled fiercely during the final extra period. Poushey decided the game with a freak one handed shot from the side of the court. The final count, 30-28. Marshall and Poushey were outstanding for the Bessemer team while Tanner and Lysko proved two of the best passers on the floor.

In the preliminary contest the Shenango girls annexed another triumph to their long list, defeating the Bessemer maidens 28-16.

The summary of the boys' game:

Bessemer	Fg.	F.	Tp.
Young, f.	0	1	1
Kursel, f.	0	1	3
Marshall, f.	3	2	8
Calderaro, c.	0	1	1
Poushey, g.	4	0	8

Bessemer And Wampum High To Play On Monday

Rival Floor Quintets To Battle For Section 22 Honors At Shenango Floor

Friday night's results in Lawrence County Class B circles brought about a deadlock for honors in Section 22.

By defeating Shenango Township high 30-28 in a three extra period contest, at Bessemer, Bessemer high school Red and Black clad quintet today is tied for sectional honors with Wampum High which captured an impressive triumph over East Brook, 26-19.

In the Shenango Township floor, Monday night at 8 o'clock, the two schoolboy combinations will battle it out for the laurels. In a third game in the county last night, Union high defeated New Wilmington, 29-19, at Union floor.

Discovery Favored To Win At Santa Anita Track In California

By JACK McDONALD
International News Service Sports Writer.

SANTA ANITA RACETRACK, ARCADIA, Feb. 22.—The costliest clatter of hoofbeats in racing history, a $128,000 trot, will be played on the Santa Anita strip today as 15 "all-American" calibre horses waited to start a mad mile and a quarter scramble for honor, glory and that very convenient vehicle, cold cash, in the Santa Anita handicap.

A surging throng of 60,000 spectators waging upwards of a million dollars was none too lavish a prediction with clear skies and warm weather prevailing as race time neared.

It looked like Discovery against the world as long lines of fans formed about the mutuels for a rooting interest of varying proportions on the champion of the A. G. Vanderbilt stable. But there was almost an equally imposing bevy of fans of the opinion it might be a horse of a different color.

Discovery Favored.

An 8 to 5 favorite, Discovery figured to wind up at about those odds in the mutuels although when he was a red-hot champion during his spectacular series of victories last summer it was nothing to see him bounding out of the gate at one to ten shot.

Odds on Discovery seem to have hit an upward trend only at the 11th hour with a barrage of statements by many who know, or claim to, that Discovery has lost his "zip".

In many quarters the anti-Discovery cannonading was looked upon as gossip spread in thick portions with a design to up the odds on America's top ranking thoroughbred.

The track will be labeled "good" by post time for the sixth race at 4:10 p. m. (EST). But it is a treacherous strip for the deciding of such an important turf issue. In spots, the track has dried completely. In others it is almost heavy.

Pulaski "Big Five" Will Play Ohioans

The Pulaski "Big Five" will play the St. Johns of Youngstown, Ohio, Sunday afternoon at the Pulaski hall. The St. Michaels Reserves will play the K. Pulaski Reserves in the preliminary game at 1:30 p. m.

The Ohioans will bring a strong lineup to the Pulaski hall, and Coach Walter Sniezek will counter with a strong team composed of Boron, Budai, Cheryavski, the Slosernick boys and Mateja.

Church A League To Resume Monday

Three games will be played Monday in the Church A league at the Y. M. C. A. floor. It was announced today. The first game will start at 8 o'clock. The league is resuming play after a week's layoff.

The Third U. P. will play the First Presbyterians. The Tifereth Israel will meet the First M. E. team. The St. Paul's Lutheran team will meet an outside team.

Wampum Defeats East Brook High By Score Of 26-18

Wampum Wins Right To Meet Bessemer For Section 22 Playoff

Wampum High school walked right into the playoff championship match with Bessemer High at the Shenango High court Monday night, by upsetting East Brook High last night at the Wampum floor 26 to 18. It is the first time in years that Wampum has been in the race for the floor championship.

Coach C. B. Hennon is being congratulated on all sides for his splendid achievement this year with the Wampum High quintet. In Flumer and Scala, Hennon has two county league All-Stars of the highest ranking.

Wampum Takes Lead

Getting back to the game last night, East Brook jumped away to a 4 to 0 lead at the end of the first period. Wampum started to score in the second period and it was 9 to 8 in favor of the Hennonmen at the half.

The end of the third period found the Wampumians out in front 16 to 13. East Brook after getting away to such a swell start, fell by the wayside. East Brook found the going tough once Scala and Fontana got into action. In the fourth and final period the Wampum scored 10 more points and held the East Brookers to five points.

Flumer and Scala were the big stars for the Wampumers. For the East Brookers the work of Kuth and George Hall was the best. The victory evened up for Wampum the seven-point lacing at East Brook.

Duquesne Sokols Will Play Here At "Y" Tonight

U. S. Sokol Champions For Three Years Straight To Play St. Nicholas

Tonight is a real night of basketball at the "Y" floor with the St. Nicholas church basketball team playing the famous U. S. Sokol champions from Duquesne, Pa., at the "Y" court at 7:15 o'clock.

The House-Seniors of the "Y" will meet the Castletons at 8 o'clock.

The Duquesne Sokols will have a galaxy of stars in the lineup, including "Clarry" Bennett, George Koehner, former Westminster star, Bodnar former Duquesne High luminary, Harapas and Johnny Koehner. The Duquesne Sokols have won the National Sokol title a total of eight times and will try hard for their ninth win this year.

This is perhaps one of the best basketball teams to come to New Castle for quite sometime.

The New Castle Sokols will have the Polenick brothers in the lineup, also Andy Motosko, the Teplica brothers and Nickie Uram. Ray Nolte has been assigned as referee it was announced by Mike Motosko.

Jimmy Hines Is Leading Tourney

(International News Service)
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 22.—Led by Jimmy Hines, Garden City, L. I., professional, fifty of the nation's top-notch golfers today entered the 36-hole finals of the $2,500 St. Petersburg open over the hazardous Lakewood Country Club course.

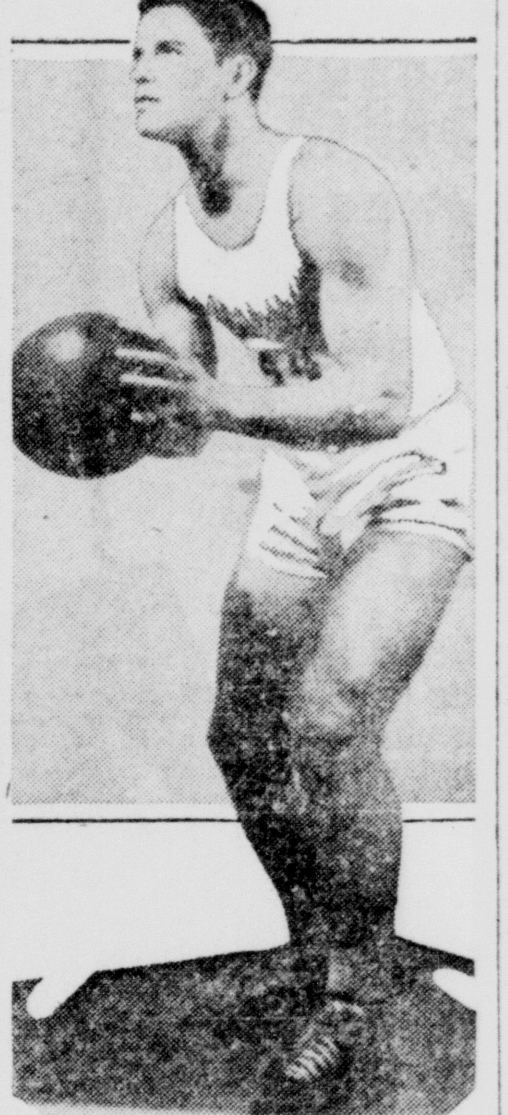

Hines stepped into the lead at the half-way mark yesterday with a one-under-par 70, and to his first day's 69 for a 36-hole aggregate of 139.

Tied at second place were Harry Cooper, Chicago, and Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., with 142.

TEAM NO. 5 WINS

Team No. 5, composed of Andy Venditto, Frank Mastern, Louis Banko and Mike Yanciel, captured the polo championship of the Knights of St. Vitus, following a tournament in the billiard room of the organization.

Heaviest Man On Titan Team

JOHN KRIVOSH

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 22.—John Krivosh, Sharon sophomore, is the heaviest man on the Titan quintet, weighing 205 pounds. With his weight plus his height, 6 feet two inches, Krivosh is a tough man to battle in getting the ball from the center tip or from the backboard.

A long high-arched shot is Krivosh's specialty, and his shooting on field goals and fouls is the most accurate on the Titan squad. Krivosh has a perfect poker face on the basketball floor, showing no emotion throughout the roughest game, except a slight flush when he thinks the referee has called a bad one.

In high school at Sharon, Krivosh won four letters in basketball and played on Sharon's undefeated 1934 football team.

Saxons To Play Homestead Team

New Castle Saxons Have Big Boosters Gam At Senior High Tonight

Tonight is booster night for the New Castle Saxons basketball team, also known as the Eintrachts. The Homestead Saxons with a fast aggregation of stars will be the opponents. The Homestead girls team and the New Castle Saxons girls will play the preliminary game starting at 7 o'clock.

It is hoped that all of the old time Saxon players and friends of the team will attend the game tonight. Coach Norman Buckingham will have his strongest possible team on the floor and the locals intend to upset the Homesteaders. New Castle Saxons are battling for first place in the Penn-Ohio Saxon league.

The New Castle Saxons play in the Church A league at the "Y" under the name of the St. Pauls Lutherans. The St. Pauls won the first-half championship of the Church A loop.

Epworth And St. Nicholas Are Winners

Win Church AA League Games At Y. M. C. A. Floor Friday Night

The Epworth M. E. church basketball team pulled the biggest upset of the church AA league season last night by taking the measure of the highly touted Sacred Hearts 19 to 18 in a battle royal that was decided in the final 20 seconds of play.

At the first half the Epworths were hopelessly beaten at 15 to 4, but the last half attack carried them through in fine shape, the winners making 15 points to three for the Hearts, almost an exact replica of the business in the first half of the game. Frank Vigliano, Nobas and Wainio led the scoring in the battle.

The St. Nicholas team topped the First Christians 30 to 27 in the only other church league game on the bill, with the score at the half favoring the Christians 20 to 13. The St. Nikes came back strong in the final two periods to take it by three points. J. Teplica, S. Teplica and Morrison were the high scorers in the contest.

Constitutionality Of Act Questioned

Will Plan Provided In Substitute AAA Measure Follow Way Of Predecessor?

SAY PLAN IS SUBTERRUGINE

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—It is hard not to agree with the statesmen, like Senators William E. Borah of Idaho, George W. Norris of Nebraska and Charles McNary of Oregon, who say that if AAA was unconstitutional, as the federal supreme court held, the New Dealers' substitute farm plan is unconstitutional, too.

The AAA act outspoke provided for crop control by the United States government, through payments to farmers for what they refrained from producing, up to a certain limit. Friends of the scheme argued that agricultural surpluses thus would be prevented, insuring better farm prices. Its foes put it that the idea was to create an artificial scarcity, which they admitted must boost prices; famine prices, they remarked, always are high.

As we know, the supreme court knocked the program on the head. It did not discuss the question of the desirability or undesirability of food scarcities. It took the position that it is unconstitutional for the federal government to regulate crops. And, of course, if Uncle Sam cannot do that, he cannot create food scarcities, anyway.

SOIL TO BE CONSERVED

According, it was up to the New Dealers to hit on a method of creating a measure of food scarcity without regulating the production of foodstuffs.

The AAA substitute plan is it. Agricultural production is not to be restricted—but the soil is to be conserved. Where, in the secretary of agriculture's opinion, it is being overworked, it is to be eliminated from food crop tillage, for so long as the secretary may deem proper, the owner, meanwhile, being governmentally recompensed at a stipulated rate.

In this fashion crop production will be reduced, but not for reduction's sake; for soil conservation's sake.

GOOD OVER ELECTION

It may be a good thing, but will not the supreme court say that plan No. 2 simple aims to accomplish, by a subturrugine, what it already has outlawed in connection with plan No. 1?

Senators Borah, Norris, McNary and other prophesy affirmatively. Senator Norris, in particular, prophesies regretfully. All the same, his prediction seems logical to him. However, from the New Dealers' standpoint, there is to be said in No. 2's favor.

It will be effective until after next election day. The supreme court cannot knock it out that soon. If it serves its purpose until then, and the New Dealers carry the farm states on the strength of it, and at that stage of the game, the "nine old men" outlay it.

Why, let the heathen rage!

A STARTLING PLAN

Erdute constitutionalists suggest a system by which they believe agriculture's output can be controlled governmentally as per all requirements of America's fundamental law.

By the creation of a huge class of federal employees; all the farmers under the flag.

These farmers to receive, each a stipend, larger or smaller, to act under orders from the department of agriculture.

The individual farmer, having a commission on this basis, to be bound to keep out of cultivation such of his land as Washington might designate. Failing to do so, he might even be subject to prosecution for disregard of his oath of office.

PEOPLE MIGHT OBJECT

There are anti-New Dealers who believe that such an act would hold constitutional water.

There are enthusiastic New Dealers who would have liked it to be pushed in preference to plan No. 2.

More moderate New Dealers (especially experienced politicians) have reasoned that it would be too much of a mouthful at the present time. Their counsel has been that it will take time—and a great deal of it—to educate the country, urban and rural, up to such regimentation. They think it would have a bad New Deal effect to make it an issue in the coming presidential campaign.

Sportsmen Aid In Feeding Birds

Ton Of Scratch Feed To Be Placed In Woods By Organization

With the state allocation of money for food for birds exhausted, the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association has come to the rescue with a ton of scratch feed which will be placed in the woods.

The present winter has been hard on wild life their natural food being buried beneath a blanket of snow and ice. What food the state money would buy has been exhausted and the local sportsmen determined that food would be provided.

All members of the sportsmen's association knowing of spots in the woods where birds congregate should call Game Protector Frank Coen who will see that food is distributed.

AROUND
CITY HALL

It is apparent that Mayor Charles E. McGrath is not keen on granting days off to city hall employees every time a holiday bobs up on the calendar. City hall folk worked on Lincoln's birthday and they're held to their duties to noon today, as no city hall workers, expecting police, work more than a half day on Saturdays.

If girls continue to leave home, Mrs. Minnie McKibben, police matron, is going to have a job on her hands to find and return them. During the past week or more several have left the city, according to their parents reports and the teletype yesterday brought requests to all police to hunt Eta Yustlin, of New York; Mildred Miller, Duquesne; Jane Hughes, Pittsburgh and Priscilla Wright, Pittsburgh. The latter two girls left together, according to reports.

Earl Wimer, city controller, is considerably pleased with his new headquarters on the second floor of city hall. The lighting system will be revamped.

If the new budget system is being kept up at city hall council ought to be able to know shortly after the first of each month how much of Mr. Taxpayers money they have spent the preceding month.

Sugar Marriage Dissolves

Roxana Browne Spreckles, wife of John D. Spreckles, III, inset, is pictured in Los Angeles court as she began her suit to divorce the sugar heir. Mrs. Spreckles asks $1,000 monthly alimony and a share in the $5,000,000 Spreckles trust fund in which her husband is said to have a large share. A Nevada divorce recently obtained by Spreckles has been set aside. (Central Press)

Two Pittsburgh
Girls Hunted

Mayor McNair Orders Intensive Probe Of Whereabouts Of Young Girls

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 22.—Personally interested, Mayor William N. McNair today pressed the search for two Pittsburgh girls who disappeared from their homes on Squirrel Hill Thursday morning and have not been heard from since.

Associated with Dean A. B. Wright of Duquesne University whose daughter, Priscilla, 15, is missing along with her close friend, Jane Hughes, 14, the mayor stepped into the case and ordered every outlet from the city combed thoroughly.

Last night police broadcasts which went over a five-state area, described the girls as "two young adventure seekers."

It was recalled that the two girls frequently had been heard mentioning the Mardi Gras at New Orleans and had often chatted to each other in French about it.

Junior Order
Enjoys Banquet

Annual Observance Of Washington's Birthday Occurs Last Night

For the thirteenth time Castle Council No. 365, Junior Order of American Mechanics held its annual Washington's Birthday banquet Friday evening, February 21. The birthday banquet was held in the Orr Hall on Grove street, and was served by the ladies of Eliza Winans McBride Tent No. 20, Daughters of Union Veterans.

A short entertainment followed the dinner, among the numbers being a special dance by Evelyn Stratton and Peggy Landis, a tap dance by Jean Bartsch and two vocal selections by Mrs. Walter H. Palmer accompanied by Edwin Lewis. The remainder of the evening was spent in bingo and dancing.

Approximately 170 members and their ladies attended the affair and those present thought it the most successful of a long line of successful parties of its kind. The committee which put the affair over in such outstanding style was composed of W. F. Johnston, John E. Miller, and Frank Schetrom.

Oil Tanker
Flashes S. O. S.

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Reporting an explosion in her forward tanks and fire, the oil tanker Albert Hill, operated by the Atlantic Refining company, shortly after 11 a. m. today flashed an SOS asking all ships near her to stand by to aid her.

The tanker reported her position at 32.25 north latitude and 76 west longitude, between 400 and 500 miles off the South Carolina coast and about 120 miles southeast of Frying Pan shoals, according to the distress call intercepted here by MacKay radio and the coast guard.

The steamer W. S. Burdell, a few minutes later, announced she was about 11 miles away and was proceeding immediately to the side of the tanker.

The Albert Hill reported her crew was battling the fire which followed the explosion. First aid did not disclose whether anyone had been killed or injured in the explosion.

Jury Deliberates
Margiotti Case

No Decision Yet In Libel Suit Against Newspaper At Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 22.—Additional instructions on the law of libel were requested today by the jury in the criminal libel suit brought by Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti against the Philadelphia Inquirer and two of its executives.

After conferring with opposing counsel for an hour, Judge William S. McLean, of Wilkes-Barre, specially presiding, recalled the jurors to the courtroom and issued additional instructions, defining libel under the statutes and the common law. The jury then retired to continue its deliberations.

Judge McLean revealed he had received a note from the jury at 11:15 last night asking additional instructions but that he declined the request until after the conferred with opposing attorneys.

Government Is Buying Apples

Federal Corporation Will Buy 112 Carloads Of Apples In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 22.—Approximately 15 counties of the state are expected to participate in providing apples purchased by the federal surplus commodity corporation for distribution among relief families of the nation.

Purchase of 112 carloads of Pennsylvania apples for that purpose by the corporation was announced by J. Hansell French, secretary of agriculture. The corporation is apportioning the 112-car order among the apple growing counties of the state on the basis of surplus stocks and is paying 70 cents a bushel. Ten carloads or about 5,400 bushels are being loaded now in Cumberland and Franklin counties for shipment to Philadelphia, French said.

Two Verdicts Are Returned At Court

Plaintiffs Win In Case Of McConahys Against Jones, Defendant In Wine Case

In the case of Paul S. McConahy against Thomas M. Jones and Russell M. Jones of Youngstown, O., which was tried at court before Judge W. Walter Braham, the jury this morning returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $85.71.

In the case of Levina A. McConahy against the same defendants and Paul S. McConahy, as an added defendant, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $75, as against Thomas M. Jones and Russell M. Jones, and a verdict in favor of McConahy, the added defendant.

The case grew out of an automobile accident on the New Castle-New Bedford road. In the case of Louis Goldberg of Sharon, executor in the estate of Ben Goldberg against Louis Wine, in which plaintiff claimed $2,000, the verdict was in favor of the defendant, which means that he won't have to pay the money. Wine claimed that the $2,000 had been given to him for his wife's wedding present.

Have You Noticed?

the bustling activity taking place in our windows? Carpenters sawing, hammering and knocking things down. The old backgrounds you have been accustomed to have been knocked down and slowly new ones are going up in their place. Carpeting will be laid, painting will be—? Wait! That is what we will do; 'wait' and let you be surprised at the beauty and splendor that will be yours to look at when window shopping in the future. We are working day and night to complete them and in just a few more days they will be completed.
